

The hurricane marked a quite significant stage in Puerto Rico. This affected us physically and mentally. What I appreciated from my perspective was that despite the damage, we stood firm and shook hands. Although we don't know each other, we helped each other as if they were our family. I think that Hurricane Maria more than affect us uncovered a path and made us realize many things.

PUERTO RICO DOESN'T GIVE UP